Non-Profits

Non-profits have unique strategic visions and WCS has the insight and experience to help bring these visions to light and to the communities they serve.

Non-profit organizations play an integral role in our communities.

Their dedication to their mission needs to be matched with a strong team, focused on their unique accounting and compliance issues. We understand these challenges and provide industry knowledge, guidance and advice built on over 40 years working with non-profits.

Our goal is to empower non-profit organizations with financial processes, procedures and planning to fulfill their compliance obligations and achieve their mission in the future. We currently provide pre-audit preparation, Uniform Guidance audits, financial statement audits, reviews, client advisory services and tax return services.

The WCS Non-Profit Team also provides board presentations, performance measurement recommendations, budgeting, outsourced accounting services and a review of accounting software systems.

At WCS, we are here to help you, help others.

About WCS

WCS has offices in Hunt Valley, Bel Air and Elkton, Maryland. Over the years, the firm has expanded its range of services beyond the traditional tax, accounting and consulting services to include niche groups that specialize in investigative accounting, non-profit organizations, construction and real estate, governmental, employee benefit plans and healthcare practices.

While the firm has grown and changed, the mission of providing the highest quality business consulting, tax and accounting services, delivered with close, personal attention, remains the same as it was over 40 years ago.
